

Announcement of Superintendent Vacancy
Monroe County Community School Corporation
Bloomington, Indiana

The Monroe County Community School Corporation Board of Trustees announces the launch of a search for a new Superintendent to succeed long-serving Superintendent Dr. Judith DeMuth, who plans to retire at the end of the school year.

The new Superintendent will lead a school community of 11,000 students and over 1,500 full and part-time faculty and staff members in Bloomington Indiana. The school district includes all of the city of Bloomington and most of Monroe County. Located in south central Indiana, Bloomington-Monroe County is the home of Indiana University and the Bloomington Campus of Ivy Tech State College.

The district is made up of 14 elementary schools, three middle schools, four high schools, an Adult Learning Center, an alternative high school, an Early Learning Center and an Area Career center. MCCSC benefits from an established, fiscally stable and supportive community as well as a strategic and collegial Board of Trustees whose focus is on providing an engaging and empowering environment to maximize the educational success of all students.

Business, education, community, and recreation information about the area is accessible from a variety of websites including the following:
